FOREWORD

In this war year of 1943 while our country is fighting to preserve democracy, we would like to show through this book that we still have the four freedoms, freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want, freedom from fear. In our school and activities we still can freely express ourselves. Too, it is the aim of this book to further the democratic principles by making them more appreciated.

This book is humbly dedicated to all the boys, especially those who have been connected with Spencerport High School, that are now serving in the armed services. To those boys fighting and even giving their lives that democracy may survive, this book is dedicated, each section to a branch of the service. It is our hope that in this small way, we may show how much we appreciate this country and the opportunity to attend a school such as this.

DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to all those in the service, who once knew Spencerport.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Raymond Flagg

The efforts expended by the School Board of Education are often received without full appreciation. Their duties are innumerable and include: to establish rules and regulations concerning the order and discipline of the school; to prescribe the course of study by which the pupils of the schools shall be graded and classified; to prescribe the textbook to be used in the school; to purchase sites for recreation grounds and for agricultural sites; to purchase all equipment necessary to the proper operation of the school; to handle all school insurance; to hire teachers; to handle all bequests or gifts to the school; to establish the tuition fees of such non-resident pupils as enter the school; to borrow money in anticipation of taxes uncollected; to raise by tax upon the property of the district any money required to pay the salary of teachers employed; to provide medical inspection of all school children. The above list of duties will give you an idea of the work required of each member of the board.

The advantages offered by Spencerport High School are due, in great part, to the efforts expended by the Board. We, students of Spencerport High School, wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation of their work in our behalf.

ADVISERS

Class History-'43

Believe it or not, here we are at the end of our high school career and all ready to graduate. Only four years ago, in September of 1959, we little greenhorns took the first step up the ladder of our high school career. Mr. Arnold and Miss Barnard were blessed with the great task of keeping us under control. We had our first election & chose Morrie Reeves as president, Jeanette Lamberson as Vice-president; Martha Morgan, secretary; Ted Fosmire, treasurer & Joan Stettner, social chairman. Our first social event was a card party at which Morrie Reeves proved to have great talent as an auctioneer. This event helped fill up our empty treasury as did the sale of Christmas wrappings we sold. To keep the class physically fit we had several rollerskating parties.

Before long we took another step and found we were sophomores with Mr. Partington & Miss Barnard as our advisors. Our class president was Lee McDowell, whom we found very capable. The rest of his cabinet was composed of Jackie Stohr - vice-president, Ruth Spencer - Sec., Bud Buttner - treasurer & Jeannette Lamberson - social chairman. We began our orchestral experiences with Duke Spinner, who played for our Sophomore Hop. Janet Potter planned and made decorations which carried out a black and white musical scheme. This event builded our class treasury. To entertain ourselves for the rest of the year, we had a "splash" party & roller skating parties.

Because we were such an ambitious group nothing could prevent us from taking one step higher and becoming Juniors. That year Miss Ferkulin & Mr. Portington became our advisers. Art Kirvan, Lillie Houck, Anna Jane Simpson, Ruth Spencer and Martha Morgan were the officers of this amazing class. To open the Christmas season we had a dance at which we had all the famous orchestras playing on our juke box. We were all very excited when our class rings finally came although a few of them were the wrong size. We carried out the great tradition of having our Junior Prom in May. The Thorne, Air Corps insignia, was originated & designed by Janet Potter. Bobby James furnished the music for this great social and financial success.

Before long we took our highest & most important step up the ladder of our high school career. There we found Miss Hoeftler & Mr. Olmsted waiting with great enthusiasm to be our Senior Class Advisers. For our class we choose as officers: Barbara Aber, president; Bud Buttner - vice president; Jackie Stroh, sec. Wilma Jones, Treasurer & Martha Morgan & Ted Fesmire - social chairmen. We became professional salesmen & made "oodles" of money selling stationery. We presented a very amusing play called "Brother Goose" in which Janet Potter, Martha Morgan, Bernard Gabitt, Lee McDowell and the rest of the cast showed great talent. This was a great financial aid to our class. An event which everyone will remember was the party with the faculty. At this party Miss Hoeftler was found to be an excellent cornhusker and Mr. Wood got filled up on donuts.

Our final year has ended and we have many memories that will never be forgotten. We have also had many experiences that will prepare us for our future lives which we hope will be as happy as those years in high school.

- Mary Ann Recruit leaves her place at the end of the alphabet to the Junior Class, the Seniors leave their reputation of being extremely grumbly & groan.
- Sue Zettler leaves us just leave.
- Finally, all the people in the world have something to grumble about because S.H.S. doesn't have a horn.
- coffee, sugar, etc. The graduating Class of '43 has some La silent groan or grumble that's able to find out who's with whom.

Grumbles & Groans

It seems that all the people in the world have something to grumble about. Hitler has Stalin, the people to grumble about coffee, sugar, etc. The graduating Class of '43 has something to grumble about. Here are a few to grumble about because S.H.S. doesn't have a horseback riding course.

Finally - we just leave.

Esther Ver Weire leaves her place at the end of the alphabet, extremely quiet, reserved and into grumble about geometry or physics this past winter seeing, Friday and Saturday nights. It's over now, Jack.

Barbara Young leaves her home to buy bonds to help the war effort.

Sue Sue leaves her place on the gates bus to Marvin's home to buy bonds to help the war effort.

SCHOOL AIDES

We have Miss Breckenridge to thank for knowing all the answers when we go into the office and ask for something. She is always there to help anyone.

Mrs. Marks, Mrs. Webster, and Mrs. Shafer are responsible for the dinners that we get in the Cafeteria. With the rationing that we abide with now, it is a wonder that we can get what we want at the same price as before.

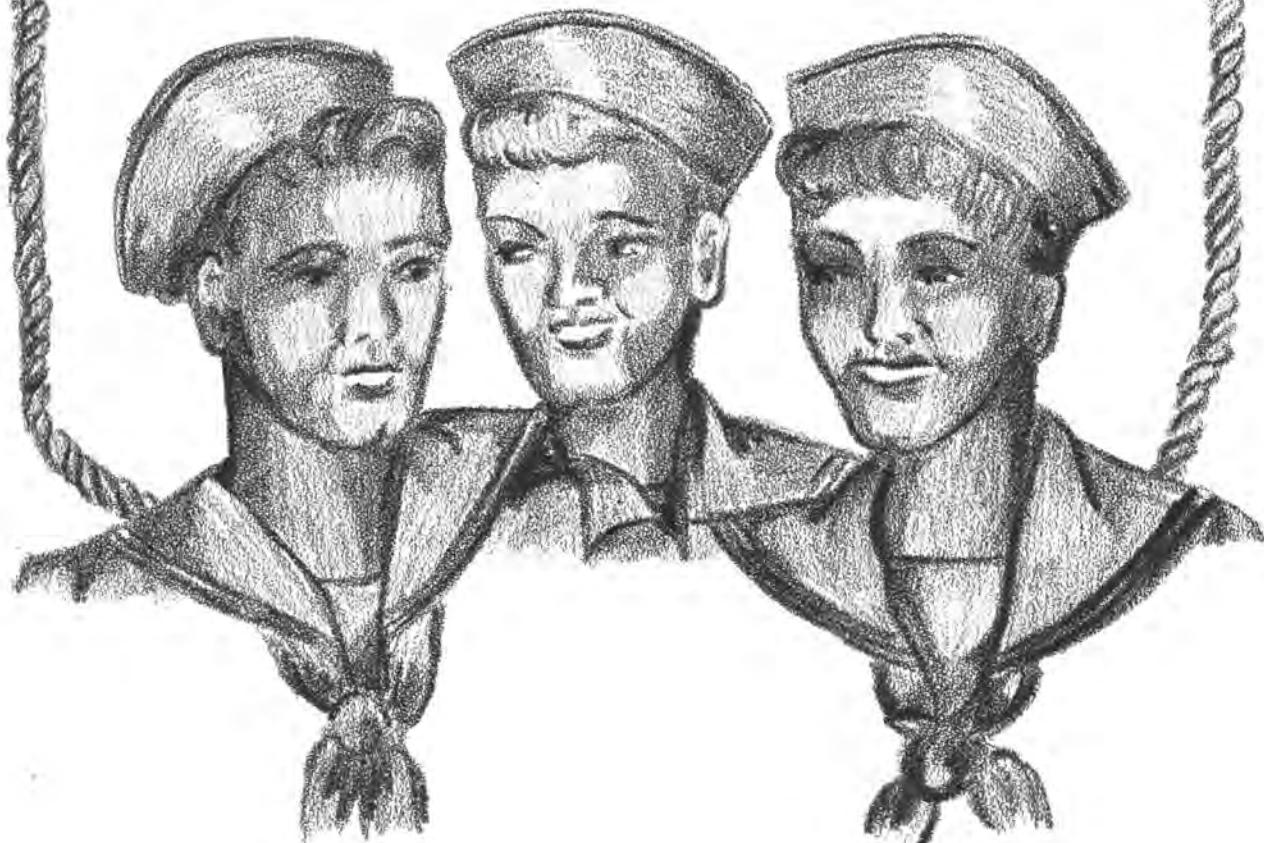

Every time you go through the hall you will no doubt see Mr. Garrison. He is walking around and has a smile for all. If it weren't for Mr. Garrison, we would be cold and if it weren't for Mr. Freestone, we would wade in the snow to get into the school. Both Mr. Garrison and Mr. Freestone help to keep the school as clean as possible.

Second Row: Fullerton, Cubitt, Pres., Simpson, Potter, Miss Cosgrove.

Third Row: Mr. Wilson, Anderson, Van Artsdal, Smith, Stettner, Kirvan, Brittain.

The Student Council was late in getting under way this year but proved itself afterward. One of the first things that it did was to promote the sale of bonds and stamps which at present has amounted to over $1,500 worth.

Bernard Cubitt was elected president, Don Avery vice-president and Anna Jane Simpson secretary. It was under the supervision of Mr. Wilson, and Miss Ada May Cosgrove was elected as the alternative adviser to the council.

Due to the gas rationing, most social activities were canceled but social calendars were submitted by the classes for the eighth periods on Fridays.

HALL MONITORS

First Row: Mr. Wilson, Elmer, Jones, Morgan, Bennett, Bonnet.
Second Row: Hoy, Simpson, Herbert, Fry, Holt.

The Student Council under its New Constitution organized the Hall Monitors in 1942. The purpose of this squad is to keep order and quiet in the halls during eighth periods. The monitors are made up of Junior and Senior girls. This year's squad is under the guidance of Ruth Bennett, and Mr. Wilson acts as adviser. For the past year they have done an efficient job of keeping order.

ECHO STAFF

Bettie Moore, Janet Potter, Barbara Aber, Eleanor Bonnet

The ECHO is a mimeographed newsmagazine published every four weeks by a capable staff of students of Spencerport High. It contains news of classes, clubs and school organizations, original columns and personal items for "spice". Barbara Aber has been the able editor-in-chief for 1943, with Mr. Tucker and Miss Ferkanin acting as advisers. The ECHO received an "A" rating at the Empire State School Press Association conference this year. Barbara Aber, Martha Morgan, Eleanor Bonnet and Miss Ferkanin attended the conference--returning with numerous ideas and accounts of a "super" time. Supplies have been purchased for next year's ECHO Staff, so that the underclassmen may look forward to another year of ECHO, despite the rationing, of meat, butter, canned goods, and gasoline. We guarantee that next year the ECHO will still have a priority on "doings" at school.

Under the able direction of Mr. Melville, the band has literally pulled itself up by its bootstraps. It plays in assemblies, for plays, and the Speaking Contest. A Conductors' Club has been formed. Students belonging to this organization are able to take charge of and lead the band when Mr. Melville is absent. Meeting four times a week, more than ever before, it has improved immensely. This year the band attended the musical festival.

"Minnie" & "Maxie"*

This year has been a banner one for the Glee Club. It has gained a new director, Miss Smith, and its membership has grown from 28 to 60 members. This spring the Glee Club participated in a musical festival at school with the band. The girls sing music of a classical nature. Besides the music festival the Glee Club has been featured in many assembly programs, sung at the Girls' Speaking Contest. Everyone enjoyed the Christmas Candle Light procession at which Glee Club members wore white robes. All appreciate the fine work this organization does.

The Sextette is composed of six girls who especially enjoy singing. They also participated in the music festival, singing many songs from their repertoire.

The Male Chorus, consisting of 17 boys, was organized by Miss Smith in January 1943. It is composed of two parts, tenor and bass. This newest organization meets eighth period every Wednesday.

These boys are very versatile, singing such songs as "Stout Hearted Men" and "Joshua Fit the Battle ob Jericho." They sung at the Boys' Speaking Contest and were very good.

PROJECTION CLUB

Zarnstorff, Schafer, Colby, Kirvan, Mr. Olmsted, Mr. Wilson, Mattern, Driver.

The Projection Club under the direction of Mr. Wilson is a small but important organization in this school. It handles all the movies given in assemblies or classes. Under their supervision many assembly programs of this type are put on. They take care of all events necessitating use of amplifying system microphone. With Art Kirvan as President, this club has done a fine job.

Our annual Girls' and Boys' Speaking Contest is sponsored by Mrs. Henry Brigham, whose only son was killed in the last World War. Ever since then, Mrs. Brigham has felt that she would like to do something in the memory of her son, so she sponsors this annual contest.

Everyone is grateful for this excellent contribution to our school.

This year the Girls' Contest was held on October 23, in the afternoon. Janice Wolcott won first prize with the speech "I Am An American". Evelyn Taylor won second, Janet Potter third. The Boys' Speaking Contest was held April 15.

The Cheer Club was organized last year, with Barbara Aber as president, to cheer former S. H. S. students now in the service. This year the club has continued and grown rapidly. There are 220 men and 5 women in our list of names at present. The club sends magazines, "Echo's", letters, greeting cards and gifts to these people. Although addresses change often, the club has kept in touch with most of its members. Our biggest problem is finding money for postage, etc. However, with the aid of two dances, one assembly program and a keen interest and support from all sides, we have at last amply filled our treasury. Some of this money is to be used to pay for picture sheets of pictures taken around the school. These pictures, a complete honor roll, and a news letter has been sent on the way to the boys. The remainder of this money will be left for next year's Cheer Club and the work it will do. We hope the Cheer Club will continue its fine work and bring happiness to many more former students.

Since October the first, thirteen boys have been working in the glider Construction Course making a ground trainer. When it was nearly finished, they started a contest to get a name for the glider. The prize for the winner was the first ride in the glider. The winner was Ray Steele who named it "The Missing Link". On February 26 he christened it in front of a large audience. Since then the time has been spent training pupils to run the ground trainer and in learning coordination of the controls.

BROTHER GOOSE, a three act comedy--the story of the trials and tribulations of a family held together by an older brother, was presented by the Seniors on November 20 under the direction of Mr. Olmsted and Miss Hoefler. The cast headed by Bernard Cubitt and Janet Potter, came through with two fine and funny performances. Lee McDowell as Wes, the "Henry Aldrich type" younger brother, and Martha Morgan as "Hi," the typical tom-boyish kid sister, turned in star performances. Ruth Bennett was a behind-the-scene star, too, as an efficient on-the-job property manager. The play was a success socially, financially and dramatically (ahem!) because the cast, the stage crew, the supper-getters, and the advisers all worked to make it "go".

The Craft Club is a new club formed this year. It has as its head Miss Spencer, the art teacher. It meets every Monday, eighth period, to paint and do craft work of all kinds. As yet only a few have joined.

ATHLETICS

CHEER LEADERS

Our Cheerleading squad this year was made up of four girls and one boy, a rather unusual combination. The Cheerleaders were: Stewart Metcalf, Gloria Thome, Dorothy Schmidt, Martha Morgan, and Florence Haag. The first two mentioned were the only ones carried over from last year's squad.

When the group assembled, the girls decided that they would like new uniforms. Navy blue, corduroy skirts and bright yellow blouses made up the outfits. Even though it was near the end of the season, the Cheerleaders made several appearances wearing them.

This year the squad had many obstacles all of which arose almost entirely from gasoline rationing. Somehow they managed to be on hand at most of the games to cheer their team to victory. Although Spencerport just missed winning the pennant, the Cheerleaders thought that the students supported them wholeheartedly.

Miss Brewer directed and advised the Cheerleaders with much energy and spirit.

Best of luck in the playoffs next year. I hope I'll be out there with the rest of them.

BASKETBALL

Our team this year played many teams out of its class. They were the Western Division "A" League Champs but lost the Monroe County Championship to East Rochester by one point.

The starting five consisted of Ted and Joe Fosmire, George Eichas, Jim Dixon, and Bud Buttner. Dave Ryan and Rich Stettner also saw plenty of action. All played to the best of their ability whenever they were called upon.

The talent shown by the reserves and substitutes shows a promising team for next year.

Coach Mink did a fine job in building a smooth working team out of an unevenly balanced club.

Though gas rationing greatly curtailed the action of the reserve basketball team this year, nevertheless they have made a good showing at the games they did play. Several promising players for next year's varsity were developed. Prospects are good for a fine varsity in the future.

Playing with a line up of mostly freshmen and sophs, the high school pitch men had a very even season. After losing to three schools, they in turn held them to a tie in return engagements.

Prospects look good with the many sophs returning for next year.

Spencerport High School baseball nine achieved the height of all school baseball teams by becoming Champ of Section.

By overcoming main obstacles, the hard work and the will to win against all odds were the outstanding features of the 1942 nine.

Led by the brilliant pitching of Homer Barton, the men came on fast during the season, to replace veterans in the line up. Such men as John Ryan, Woody, Bob Irwin, and Joe Fosmire sparked the team to its drive to a Sectional Championship. But the all-around play of Houck, Corke, and Eckel--veterans of two seasons, steadied the green team.

All honor belongs to the boys--they fought themselves to this Championship.

Spencerport High School Athletic Association is composed of captains of the major sports, plus the managers of these sports, with the coaches of the different sports also sitting on the council with the association's treasurer and a faculty adviser.

The girls are represented by Miss Brewer and two girls representing the Girls Athletic Association. This association's main function is to oversee the Varsity Athletic program and girls' play days. They also vote on all varsity and intra-mural awards. Another of their duties is to sponsor social functions for the enjoyment of the students.

GIRLS SPORTS ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Seated: Williamson, E. Pfund, Piendel, Simpson
Standing: Houck, Ellen Witty, Miss Brewer, Coffey, Charles Morgan

Our Athletic Council, made up of representatives from each high school class, remodels the intramural activities. Also, it takes charge of the point system under which each girl works toward earning points for her numerals, school letter or school monogram.

For the majority of the girls, athletics are a favorite pastime. Including such major sports as soccer, volleyball, basketball, speedball and baseball, the intramural games, class games of the various sports are played off. Badminton and square dancing were indulged in vigorously by both the skilled and un-skilled athletes while those with a good "aim" were attracted to the Archery Club.

This year eight girls demonstrated emergency skills at the University of Rochester for a Physical Fitness Conference. The skills involved running, jumping, falling, crawling, climbing and rolling. At the Rochester Natatorium with other Monroe County Schools, Spencerport's Mermaids were found at their best. Later in the season, several class baseball playdays were held within the school itself.

Having been introduced into the school program just last year, the Leader's Club is a fairly new organization. Only Senior and Junior girls may belong to this club. This group helps to promote the intramural program by keeping score and time, refereeing and putting equipment away. They also assist with the grade children at noon and demonstrate new skills in their gym classes. Red and white uniforms distinguish these "leaders" from the regulation blue and gold suits.
